FROM THE NCADA DEPUTY EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

NCADA IS A COMMUNITY HEALTH AGENCY WORKING TO REDUCE OR PREVENT THE HARMS CAUSED BY ALCOHOL AND OTHER DRUG USE. WE BELIEVE IN THE POWER OF PREVENTION, THE POWER OF INFORMATION, AND THE POWER OF ADVOCACY; AND WE USE ALL OF THESE TOOLS IN THE SERVICE OF OUR MISSION.

As part of our mission, we publish this Treatment and Recovery Services Manual to assist individuals seeking help, and as a reference for persons working in the helping professions.

This manual lists support groups, treatment programs, and recovery homes for substance use and co-occurring disorders.

Inclusion in this manual does not imply endorsement of an agency or its programs by NCADA, nor does exclusion imply disapproval. The treatment landscape sometimes changes more often than this guide is updated. Please let us know if any accredited or certified/licensed agency has been omitted.

NCADA is grateful to the agencies listed here for their interest and help in the preparation of this manual. If you have any questions about the treatment community, please feel free to call NCADA at any time.

Yours respectfully,

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "Jenny Armbruster". The signature is written in a cursive, flowing style.

Jenny Armbruster
NCADA Deputy Executive Director

CECH (Continuing Education Contact Hour) is also available for $5.00 for CHES (Certified Health Education Specialist) or MCHES (Master Certified Health Education Specialist).

How we are supported in our work

The NCADA is partially funded by United Way of Greater St. Louis, the Missouri Department of Mental Health - Division of Behavioral Health, the St. Louis County Children's Service Fund, and the Franklin County Children and Families Community Resource Board. Additionally, we are supported by foundation grants, individual and corporate contributions and fees for service.

Certification/Affiliations

The NCADA is certified by the Missouri Department of Mental Health – Division of Behavioral Health. We are an affiliate of Facing Addiction with NCADD (National Council on Alcoholism and Drug Dependence), a full member agency of the United Way of Greater St. Louis, and a Better Business Bureau Accredited Charity with an A+ rating.

GUIDELINES TO ACCESSING TREATMENT

Accessing alcohol/drug treatment services in the metropolitan St. Louis Area (St. Louis City and the counties of St. Louis, Jefferson, Franklin, St. Charles, Lincoln and Warren) has become increasingly challenging.

Note to families: For specialized services and support groups for family members and significant others who have been affected by another person's alcohol/drug problem, please call the NCADA for a referral.

Please Read This Entire Section Before Accessing Treatment:

If you have insurance:

Call your insurance carrier to discuss the extent of your coverage for substance use disorders and how to access treatment through their network.

If you have the means to pay for treatment:

Call any treatment program listed in this manual for admitting procedures, or call NCADA at 314-962-3456 for a referral to a private practitioner. Some programs may offer a payment plan.

If you do not have insurance or the means to pay for treatment:

- Veterans living in St. Louis City or St. Louis County:
Call the Veterans Affairs Medical Center at the John Cochran facility: 314-894-6652.
- Adolescents (13-19) or adults anywhere in the St. Louis metropolitan area:
Call a state-funded program for access to treatment (contingent on space availability). For an out-of-state referral, call the NCADA at 314-962-3456.

If you are a Medicaid recipient:

Call any of the C-Star Agencies listed on page 10 to directly access treatment.

Please note, individuals suffering from substance use disorders often are also diagnosed with co-occurring mental health disorders. Many substance use disorder treatment facilities are equipped with the staff and knowledge for treatment of substance use and other behavioral health disorders. If you need specific referrals for co-occurring disorders, please call NCADA at 314-962-3456.

A WORD ABOUT RECOVERY

Recovery from substance use disorders is hard, but it is possible. Many people find it difficult to get through detox and become stabilized before they can begin to maintain a durable recovery. This is where treatment comes into the picture. Treatment can be extremely beneficial in helping someone get sober. However, at best, treatment is the means by which one can receive the detoxification and counseling services necessary to achieve the initial stability that allows for ongoing, sustained recovery.

While many who suffer from substance use disorders will find treatment necessary to achieve detoxification and stabilization, others are able to achieve this via participation in support groups. For these individuals, treatment may not be necessary; sometimes, self-help is enough. Of all the support groups available, Alcoholics Anonymous (A. A.) is the oldest and best known.

For A. A. the only requirement for membership is “a desire to stop drinking.” In meetings, A. A. members share their “experience, strength and hope.” By engaging in this fellowship, countless numbers of individuals have found the help they needed without having to obtain professional or medically-based care. There are several hundred A. A. meetings available weekly in the greater St. Louis area. Information regarding these meetings can be found by accessing the Alcoholics Anonymous St. Louis Central Service Office website www.aastl.org. When attending a meeting, there are generally Where & When listings available to newcomers that show the day, time, and location of local meetings.

In addition to A. A., there are numerous other twelve-step groups. These groups include: Narcotics Anonymous, Cocaine Anonymous, Marijuana Anonymous, Heroin Anonymous, Nicotine Anonymous, etc.

Additionally, there are other support groups that are not twelve-step-based but still employ a model of mutual help.

At the end of this manual is a list of local support groups available in the St. Louis area. For most, additional information about each group is available online. If you have any questions regarding which group or groups might best suit your or someone else’s situation, please feel free to call the NCADA at 314-962-3456 and ask for a counselor.
